Experience

Senior Web Developer

www.steris.com STERIS, Mentor, OH

Oct 2008 - Present

I am a senior web developer with STERIS and lead developer in charge of all customer facing applications. I work on and maintain a variety of current and legacy applications with the largest being our corporate website. I work closely with our project manager on gathering requirements, setting estimates and delivering solutions that our customers are proud of. I also work closely with our DBAs and IT department on a number of projects.

Software Engineer

www.letternine.net LetterNine, Broadview Heights, OH

Nov 2004- Oct 2008

In a small development shop I helped create custom application by working closely in a team environment. I am responsible for entire applications from concept to production as well as making minor updates to existing applications. I am also responsible for making updates to our in house content management system, billing systems for customers wishing to integrate real time billing in their applications, and creating custom reports using ColdFusion Report builder software.

Level II Technical Support / Webmaster

www.five9.com Five9, Inc., Pleasanton, CA

2001 - Oct 2004

My primary role was providing top level support to both our clients and level 1 support. I would help call centers install and maintain the VOIP call center software that we provided to our customers. Another role was creating and maintaining the corporate web site as well as creating a technical support portal for our customers. In this portal I was able to deliver video tutorials on using our software which helped cut software training times by 50 percent.

Activities

Writing & Blogging: I am often blogging about programming techniques and solutions.

User Group Manager: I am the manager of the Cleveland Adobe User Group

Public Speaking: I am often asked to give presentations at user group meetings, online meetups and conferences. I think this is another avenue that has allowed me to further my education.

Adobe Community Professional (ACP): For the second straight year I have been recognized as a community professional and it's an honor to be recognized among the greats in the community.
